

30 April 2010

Geoff Booth
273 Milperra Road
Revesby
NSW 2212
AUSTRALIA

Dear Geoff

Congratulations on being awarded Standards New Zealand's Committee of the Year

Enclosed please find your personal signed certificate to recognise your participation in EL-002. I am sorry you were not able to attend our Meritorious Awards events held recently where we awarded EL-002 with our new Committee of the Year Award.

In my speeches at these events held in Auckland, Wellington, and Christchurch, I outlined how EL-002 is very competently led by Derek Johns and that a large number of Standards of importance to consumer safety and satisfaction are managed. I explained that the Standards that EL-002 develops are used by regulators, manufacturers, and testing houses to ensure that electrical appliances and equipment released for sale on both sides of the Tasman are safe and aligned with international Standards.

As the first joint Standards committee to operate completely electronically, I commended how EL-002 committee members use technology to streamline their processes and said you now have just two 2-day meetings each year.

Standards New Zealand and Standards Australia sincerely appreciate all our hard-working development committee volunteers, such as yourself, to help make our vision for a more prosperous, safer New Zealand and Australia a reality.

Thank you again for all your effort - it is truly appreciated

Yours sincerely

Debbie Chin
Chief Executive